VOTE the Republican ticket.

REPUBLICANS, turn out and vote.

EVEN in these blustering days the Democracy's bifurcation is becoming manifestly conspicuous.

KENTUCKY Democracy has put itself right in line with the national organization by splitting itself wide open.

VOTE for Bradley and the whole Republican ticket by stamping your ballot in the square under the Log Cabin.

EVERY day prospects of an increased majority for Col. Barnett for Representative, grow more flattering. Let it pile up.

CARLUS M. CLAY, JR., the noted Democrat stigmatizes the Democratic cry of negro supremacy in their campaign as "contemptible."

REPUBLICAN voters should put their cross mark right under the Log Cabin. In this way there can be no danger of losing your vote.

COUNTY Judge Wallington, of Elliott county, a leading Democrat, and twenty of his neighbors have declared their intention to vote for Bradley.

THE best day's work you can do for yourself and family and State on November 5th is to stamp your ballot in the square under the Log Cabin.

STAMP your ballot in the square under the Log Cabin and you have voted to redeem the State from the Frankfort ring and to inaugurate a new era in Kentucky.

OUR Job Printing Department is thoroughly equipped for promptly turning out the very best grade of work, having added largely to our facilities during the past. If you need anything in this line, let us quote prices.

SHAS EVANS, a tobacco grower, aged fifty-five years, was shot and perhaps fatally wounded at Georgetown by Jas. Leach, colored. Both live at Donnell and had quarreled. Leach is injured. Mob violence was talked about for a time.

FRANCIS MARION GREEN, editor of the Kentucky Register at Richmond, and one of the best known newspaper men in Central Kentucky, dropped dead at Richmond at the residence of his mother. He was forty-eight years old and had been an editor twenty-nine years.

JUDGE FIELD, of Louisville, has decided that in all cities except those of the second class members of the board of education must be elected by vote, or, in other words, by an open ballot. The charter of cities of the second class provides for the secret ballot in those cities.

GENERAL MIURA, the deposed Japanese Minister to Korea, has just succeeded in carrying out a plot which resulted in the murder of the Korean Queen. Miura tries to implicate the Japanese Government, but the latter were unknown to the crime and will punish the murderer.

THE Chicago Dispatch announces the discovery of a cold water spring which possesses all the properties of the Keeley cure. Persons who drink of this water lose all desire for whisky or beer. Kentucky has decided that strict quarantine regulation must be established to keep this deadly stuff out of the Blue Grass country.

HAVE the clerk of the Election to fold your ballot for you, take it into the booth, unfold it, stamp it with the X in the square just under the Log Cabin, fold up the ballot again as it was first folded, deliver it to the judge and go on your way rejoicing. You will have done a good day's work for the State.

FOURTEEN more of the murderers of the Chinese Missions have been executed. China, at first, did not seem much inclined to punish the perpetrators, but in answer to the no uncertain suggestion of Great Britain and the United States she is progressing with commendable alacrity in the work of punishment. The Chinese have a way of hiring a substitute in case of capital punishment and thus cheating justice of her reward in the punishment of the real criminal, but the sentiment of the civilized world demands the life of the offenders, nothing less.

THE Republicans have all along claimed the State has been mismanaged for many years by the same ring and that the present Democratic ticket for its greater part, was named from among that ring, by it. The Louisville Post, a Democratic paper says:

"Furthermore, what political influence in Kentucky is as compact, as far-reaching, as well disciplined as that centering in the Auditor's office and reaching to the remotest corner of the State? This influence has been the controlling political influence in Kentucky for twenty years, as the following list of the State officers and nominees for that period will show."

Then the Post gives the names of State officials from 1874 to the present, and says:
"This exhibits the situation so far as it relates to the State. It is a complete subjugation of the Democratic party to the will and purpose of men who master the machine and the idea that this they can master the party."

THERE are 17 post-offices in Ohio county.

OUR imports are increasing while our exports are almost the same as last year. This gives us the hot end of the poker in our dealings with foreign nations. Such a result was expected to follow the enactment of the Democratic mongrel Tariff law.

THERE is one voting precinct in Ohio county that contains over 200 voters yet it has not a white school house within its limits. Other voting precincts in the county contain from 2 to 10 school houses for white children.

COL. C. M. BARNETT authorizes us today that the statement to the effect that he told either Dan Taylor or Crit Parks he was a whisky man is wholly untrue. The Herald's plan of campaign is composed wholly of dodge and dirt.

THE Democrats made a great hue and cry when the Louisville Republicans held their convention and nominated a city ticket some time ago and it was charged the A. P. A's captured it. Monday night at Paducah a convention was called by the Democrats, was captured by the A. P. A's horse, foot and dragon and the Democrats are wrecked in the city and county.

THE publicans have labored long and hard to gain control in Kentucky and to put an end to Democratic extravagance and mismanagement, and now the best opportunity ever had is with us. No Republican worthy the name should be wanting now. Go to the polls and vote early. If you have a neighbor who believes in rebuking the Frankfort ring and in maintaining a sound monetary system, have him go with you and vote with you.

THERE have been some intimations that the Democrats will attempt to make a still hunt in this Senatorial District by fusing with the Populists and supporting the Populist candidate, Mr. Driskell, in an attempt to defeat Dr. A. D. James, the Republican candidate. It is a nice little scheme, but the Democratic bosses will scarcely be able to deliver the goods. Let Republicans keep a sharp lookout, however, and forestall this trick by polling every Republican vote in the District.

HON. CASSIUS M. CLAY, JR., whom Gen. Hardin defeated for the nomination and who at that time affirmed his allegiance to the cause of the Democratic candidate, has come out in an open letter repudiating Gen. Hardin, in which he says:

"Gen. Hardin's repudiation of the platform upon the all-vital question now before the American people certainly absolves all Democrats from any obligation to support him as the Democratic nominee."

"The prosperity, security and welfare of the country absolutely demand an instant repudiation of such views as Gen. Hardin holds, and it is the duty of all sound money Democrats to give them no encouragement whatever, especially as the issue was forced for selfish purposes, and in spite of our protest for party harmony was rammed down our throats by Gen. Hardin. Those who live by the sword must fall by the sword. Let us not now warm up the snake of financial heresy that it may attack us with renewed vigor."

"Some speakers are urging reluctant Democrats to vote for Hardin for fear of negro supremacy. Such argument seems contemptible."

THE QUESTIONS ANSWERED.

The Herald asks if we are in favor of the repeal of the Separate Coach Law. We answer plainly No. It also asks if we are in favor of the enactment in Kentucky of a law similar to the New York race law. Again we say No.

Now will the Herald frankly answer the following questions: Does the Herald uphold or condemn President Cleveland, then Governor of New York, for signing the New York race law? Does the Herald uphold or condemn the Democratic Legislature of Indiana for passing a race law similar to the New York law?

If a Democratic Legislature in Indiana pass such a law and a Democratic Governor of New York sign such a law, why would not a Democratic Legislature and a Democratic Governor be as likely to do the same thing in Kentucky as a Republican Legislature and a Republican Governor?

Does the Herald endorse President Cleveland for appointing a negro to a position paying about $1,000 a year and giving him charge of the Owensboro Custom House?

Does the Herald endorse President Cleveland for inviting Fred Douglas to dine with him?

Does the Herald endorse President Cleveland in appointing negroes to office?

Does the Herald endorse the Democratic Committee in sending out the negro, Christian, to make Democratic speeches over the State?

Does the Herald endorse the Cleveland Administration?

Is the Herald in favor of the Free and Unlimited Coinage of Silver at the ratio of 16 to 1?

Is the Kentucky Democratic State platform of 1895 a Free Silver or a Gold Standard platform?

What is the position of the Democratic party of Kentucky to-day, for or against the Free and Unlimited Coinage of Silver at 16 to 1.

An Upright Judge.

John Rhea, in his speech at Louisville, said: "If Dams Rummor is to be relied upon the Republicans have just such a candidate for the Court of Appeals from this district as they have in Judge Guffy."

Well, John we don't know whether you are right or not, but welcome you are. If Mr. DuRelle is the equal of Judge Guffy we are perfectly satisfied, and so also will be Judge Guffy's colleagues on the bench. Judge Guffy took his seat on the bench he has won a host of friends by his able decisions and devotion to duty. The Republican party honors itself by putting such men as Judge Guffy in the court of last resort. Let us have more of his kind. John Rhea put himself very much in the attitude of a little fice dog barking at a big Newfoundland. —[Frankfort Journal.]

Shot by a Preacher.

News of a serious shooting comes from Edmonson county. On Sunday Charles Clemens accompanied to church the daughter of the Rev. George Mills, a Methodist preacher. The preacher was opposed to Clemens' attendance upon his daughter, and took her away from the young man, and accompanied her home himself.

Mills met Clemens in a public road and a quarrel ensued, which resulted in Mills firing a load of shot from a single-barrel gun into Clemens' groin. It is said Clemens will die, and the preacher, when last heard from, had not been arrested.

Distillery Warehouse Burned. The bonded warehouse at the distillery of J. T. Harrison, at Leitchfield, was destroyed by a fire supposed to have been started by an incendiary.

A Candidate for Circuit Judge. Mr. W. Scott Morrison, of this city, has already begun telling his friends that he will be a candidate for the Republican nomination for Circuit Judge in this District. The election does not take place until November, 1897, but Mr. Morrison deems it wise to be early in the field. —[Owensboro Messenger.]

Make Yourself Strong.

If you would resist pneumonia, bronchitis, typhoid fever, and persistent coughs and colds. These ills attack the weak and run down system. They can find no foothold where the blood is kept pure, rich and full of vitality, the appetite good and digestion vigorous, with blood's Sarsaparilla, the one true blood purifier.

Hood's Pills cure liver ills, constipation, biliousness, jaundice, sick headache.

Mr. J. G. Wilson, Rosine, gave us a pleasant call Monday.

A Kind Word.

Quite a serious wreck happened on the C. O. & S. W. R. R. just below Beaver Dam early Monday morning, in which the engine, baggage car and one coach were damaged and it is a mystery that the entire train was not demolished. The train was a few minutes behind time, and striking a pretty piece of track was making good time. The Taylor Mines switch was left open and the engine dashed headlong in the ditch between the switch and the main track, while one coach followed it and one coach broke loose and fell over on the opposite side of the track. The mail agent, Mr. Myers, was pretty badly bruised up and the engineer and fireman were mangled up somewhat, but not seriously.

Judge Dempsey's Speech.

Judge J. F. Dempsey, Democratic candidate for Railroad Commissioner, was advertised to speak at the Court House last Friday, and owing to the illness of the crowd he tried to decline, but after much ringing of the Court House bell he was induced to reconsider the matter, which he did and proceeded to deliver a usual Democratic speech.

It is Off.

The fight between Corbett and Fitzsimmons is declared off by the Florida Athletic Club at a Conference between the managers of Corbett and Fitzsimmons. The Club asked that the contest be postponed until November 11. Brady acquiesced, but Julian would not. The Contest was declared off. Finally then said his last say—that Corbett would meet any man in the world, Fitzsimmons preferred, on November 11, the man to be named within twenty-four hours. Vending announced that he would match Maher against Corbett and find some one to take his place against O'Donnell, the contest Maher and Corbett to be for $50,000 a side.

A Narrow Escape.

The marriage of Cloverport, John Hall, had a close call for his life Sunday morning. As it is he is suffering from a wound from a pistol ball on his scalp.

The name of the man who did the shooting is not known but he has just been arrested by the marshal.

Mr. Hall was covering the man with his pistol, and another man was searching him. The prisoner had one hand in his pocket, and when they had searched his other pockets the marshal told him to take his hand out of that pocket. The man jerked it out, grasping a pistol and fired instantly at Mr. Hall. Fortunately he backed his head just before the shot was fired, or he must have been killed.

The Midway Clipper gives the following receipt for keeping elder sweet: "To keep elder from fermenting, some put shot in the jug; other bottle after slightly heating, and before putting in the cork place on top two or three raisins. When cold insert the bottles in a box of sawdust."

Last Call for Taxes.

On account of short crops last year, and the consequent scarcity of money, we have been easy with tax-payers in forcing collections, but now the time is fast approaching when I will have to settle with the State and County for all the taxes due them whether I collect it or not, therefore you who still owe taxes, are requested to pay at once and not force us to levy on and sell your property. It is now TOO LATE for me or my deputies to visit all of you before the six per cent. penalty will be added which will be in a few days, but our office in Hartford will be open every day, Sundays excepted, where you can find some of us ready to receive tax money and receipt therefor.

AN ALLWISE FATHER

Has this year smiled upon our county and blessed us with bountiful crops of all kinds for which there are now open, ready markets and out of this great surplus tax-payers should willingly pay what they owe. After

THE 10TH DAY OF NOVEMBER

We will call on no person the second time for tax money, but will be forced to levy in every instance where the money is not paid on demand. We hope we will not be forced to levy, but must, if this warning appeal is not heeded.

Teachers should read the Newspaper.

Many of the County Superintendents, since the teachers' examinations for 1895, have stated that many of the applicants were deficient in current literature, all owing to the fact that they do not read the newspapers. In this enlightened age, with newspaper at almost every crossroad, or applicants to teach the rising generation to be guilty of the neglect to keep abreast of the events of the day by reading a newspaper, is a disgrace. Teachers should not only subscribe for their home paper but also take an educational journal, and read both carefully, which will make them stronger in their profession as instructors, as well as make them stronger intellectually. —[Shipensburg, Pa. To the Voters of Ohio County

FELLOW CITIZENS—I am before you as the Populist candidate to represent Ohio county in the Lower House and am asking the suffrage of every honest producer of wealth. I elected, I pledge myself to work for the best interest of Ohio county, and look after and guard your interests to the best of my ability. I promise also that my vote for United States Senator shall go to that candidate whom I think will best subserve the great majority of Kentuckians on the currency question, viz: The enactment of a law for the free and unlimited coinage of both gold and silver at the present legal ratio of 16 to 1. No one will appreciate your vote more than myself.

Respy,

THE HUMOR OF IT.

She was dressing very carefully and exquisitely for the Haverton's dance, and yet with a certain nervous abstraction. No and then she would stand still, lost in musing; then she would get her teeth, and dress frantically for a spell. Clearly it was not easy to rehearse a scene of reproach and scorn and put in judicious hairpins simultaneously. But she realized that a perfect confidence in her own appearance might materially influence her courage when the moment for the scene came, and that the moment should come to-night at the Haverton's dance she was fully and desperately determined.

Surely if ever man deserved punishment at the hands of woman that man was Ashby Eldon. He had behaved unforgettably.

She had met him for the first time at Nice, in the early part of this winter. She was there with an envied aunt. He was there on mere pleasure, and had given her to understand that he had fled from a hot-house atmosphere of tiresome adulation in London, to bathe his soul in pure sunshine. He had talked culture and personalities in perfect proportions. He had been charming; had worn striped linen, a pointed beard, and a smile of fascinating fatigue; he had deluged her with expensive flowers. At first these flowers had come with a mere card. A little later the card was often inclosed in a sealed envelope, and covered with some suggestive little quotation from the French or German poets. Still later the flowers had come without a word, bearing their own message, and when he noted a spray or two in her dress he would perhaps steady his eyes on hers for a moment, hold her hand the fraction of a second too long for mere convention—oh, tell her in a thousand wordless ways that she was a charming woman in his eyes, and that he knew she knew it. And never a hint or sign of his engagement to that Miss Trevor! It was incomprehensible—unspeakable!

If he had not mentioned by chance that Lady Haverton was his aunt; if on her return from Nice she had not taken enormous trouble to cultivate on to Ashby Eldon, she might have dawdled in her fool's paradise to the day of his wedding announcement.

Well, the days of woman's "silent suffering" were over now, thank heaven! She had been reading a striking article on this theme in some magazine only last week. A woman was no longer a man's prey—she was his equal, his rival; and to-night she would prove it. She would speak her mind honestly—grandly—without flinching. She foresaw every detail of the interview. He would be standing in the doorway of the ballroom when she arrived. She would pass him by. He would speak to her, and she would raise her eyebrows in calm surprise, answering in icy terms. But he should write his name on her programme, and when the dance came round she would ask to sit it out. Silently she would lead the way to an empty room—the little boudoir at the back of the conservatory. And then—

How she would tear him with her weapons of scorn and disgust. She would make him feel like a cur.

The hottest words seemed sufficient punishment, when she thought what suffering he might have caused her! It was the merest chance that she had not lost her heart to him—the merest chance. Why did she do the face in the glass which when she said that? She would say it again, and say it out loud. It was the purest piece of luck that she had not fallen in love with Ashby Eldon. He had done his best. He was a brute. Yes, he was. She didn't care. He was.

How hideous red eyelids could make one look! they took all the poetry out of white cheeks. Why had she been the fool to choose her pink silk for to-night? And what would it matter if she wore green balze? Hateful world!

It was packed at the Haverton's. Eleven o'clock and he was not there. She danced a great deal. Half-past eleven, and he was not there.

She sat out a great deal. Half-past twelve, and he was not there. She was getting too tired to smile. She must go home now.

"Good night, Lady Haverton—a delightful evening." Yes, she was feeling a little tired. Good night once more, and out on the staircase. Merciful powers! There he came—slowly, possessedly—in the old way. Quick! what was she going to say at the very first—oh, what—

"Miss Fardoni! an unexpected pleasure!" A wave seemed to wash over her brain. She took his proffered hand and her eyes fell for one second. Then she looked up with a brilliant society smile. Her old resolutions lay about her in ruins. A completely different set of emotions had taken possession of her—unconsciously—unquestioningly.

"Ah, you are back in the vortex, Mr. Eldon—the dear old vortex!" "Yes!" A faint suspicion of awkwardness spoiled his usually perfect manner. "Yes, I am just de retour. How kind of people to give these little soirees at this time of the year—when there is positively no other way of getting warm."

"And I am ungrateful enough to be running away now. There is no much going on de ces jours—lan't there?"

"But you will give me a few words before you go? Come downstairs and let us drink to the memory of dear old Nice. And—and I have news."

"Your engagement! and I was forgetting my congratulations." He took breath. "How unpardonable of me; but, really, so many of my friends have taken the fatal step just lately, I'm getting quite confused. Is your fiancé here?"

"No, unfortunately." "Ah, my misfortune, I am sure. Well, it leaves me something to look forward to. Good night, Mr. Eldon, and bien des choses for your future happiness. There's my chaperone. I must fly."

She waved a frivolous hand. There was a look of surprised disappointment on his charming face. And yet he gave another deep sigh of relief as he turned into the hall. "Wonderful luck! But, somehow, I thought she'd take it differently," said he to himself.

And she drove home. Only when she got to her own room, and remembering just what she had said, did she see the humor of it; and thereupon she cried.—Black and White.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.

When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.

When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.

When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

Save the Apple Crop.

From almost every direction comes a good report of the apple crop and this promises to be the banner year for apples. The price will not doubt be low for all common fruit and instead of selling it for a few cents a bushel, it should be made into cider and allowed to make vinegar. Many times hundreds of bushels of apples will go to waste in a single neighborhood, that if made into cider, and kept for vinegar, would have brought large prices within a year, for it is seldom that two extra crops of apples come in two successive years. Every care should be taken to have the vinegar clear and as nearly perfect as possible, and when this is accomplished, there is always a demand for it at paying prices, and the man who has cider vinegar that can be depended on as pure and unmixed with water, will not need to hunt for place to dispose of it. Apples that are faulty are often left to lie on the ground and become breeding places for cod-lin moths and other injurious insects. The "windfalls" should be carefully picked up every day or two, and fed to the hogs, as they like them and such variety helps to keep the animals in good condition. Horses are very fond of apples and if given a few of them occasionally, will feel all the better for the change.

Huacae Greeley.

An acquaintance met Horace one day and said: "Mr. Greeley, I've stopped your paper." "Have you?" said Horace. "Well, that's too bad," and the old white hat went its way.

The next morning Greeley met his subscriber again, and said: "I thought you had stopped the Tribune?" "So I did." "Then there must be some mistake," said Horace, "for I just came from the office, and the presses were running, and the business was going on the same as yesterday and the day before."

"Oh!" ejaculated the subscriber, "I didn't mean that I had stopped the paper, I stopped only my copy of it because I didn't like your editorials."

"Pshaw!" retorted Greeley, "it wasn't worth taking up my time to tell me such a trifle as that. My dear sir, if you expect to control the utterance of the Tribune by the purchase of one copy a day, or if you think to find any newspaper worth reading that will never express convictions at right angles with your own, you are doomed to disappointment."

When the children drink bad water and eat too much green fruit, or have the stomachache or diarrhea from any cause, you needn't be alarmed about them. If you will get a 25c or 50c bottle of Dr. Bell's Anti-Flux they will be at play in half hour after the first dose. Z. Wayne Griffin & Bro.

Resolutions.

HARTFORD, KY., Oct. 10, '95.

Free Son's Lodge No. 1, 873, G. W. O. of O. F.

WHEREAS, It has pleased Almighty God in His allwise providence to remove from us by death and called home to himself to rest from his labors to a rich reward our beloved P. N. P. brother, Ben Moseley, October 5, 1895. Therefore he it resolved:

1. That we, the brethren working under that grand banner, dedicated to Friendship, Love and Truth, do mourn at the departure of our brother, Ben Moseley. Be it further resolved:

2. That we give up to the grand Master all of his property, but we cannot help from thinking of his dying words that were: "I am willing to go, I have washed my robe in the blood of the lamb and have kept the faith, I am going home to receive my reward," and we do sincerely mourn our great loss, not only for his Odd Fellowship, but as a shining light of christianity. Be it further resolved:

3. That the bereaved widow, his little children and all others of our late Brother's family have our warmest and heartiest sympathy in this their and affliction, and we hope and trust that God in his loving kindness and tender mercies will support, console and protect the afflicted here and hereafter.

4. That in memory of the deceased Brother we wear the usual badge of mourning for thirty days.

5. That a copy of these resolutions be sent to his family and the Hartford Republican and they be asked to publish same. Done by order of Lodge.

Subscriptions. The courts have decided that the following is the law as applies to newspapers.

1. Subscribers who do not give express notice to the contrary are considered as wishing to renew their subscriptions.

2. If subscribers order the discontinuance of their periodical, the publisher may continue to send them until all arrears are paid.

3. If subscribers neglect or refuse to take their periodicals from the post-office to which they are directed, they are responsible until they have settled their bills and ordered them discontinued.

4. If the subscribers move to other places without informing the publisher, and the papers are sent to the former address, they are held responsible.

5. The courts have decided that refusing to take periodicals from the office, or removing and leaving them uncalled for, prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

6. If subscribers pay in advance they are bound to give notice at the end of the time if they do not wish to continue taking it, otherwise the publisher is authorized to send it and the subscribers will be responsible until an express notice with payment of all arrears is sent to the publisher.

The latest postal laws are such that newspaper publishers can arrest any one for fraud who takes a paper and refuses to pay for it. Under this law the man who allows his subscription to run along for some time unpaid and then orders it discontinued, or orders the postmaster to mark it "refused" and have a postal card sent notifying the publisher, leaves himself liable to arrest and fine, the same as for theft.

When your child is eating an apple or a piece of bread put one of Dr. Bell's Tiny Tonic Tablets in it and if there is any constipation here it will pass off just as easy. All dealers sell them at 25c a box. Z. Wayne Griffin & Bro.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is Dr. Samuel Pitcher's prescription for Infants and Children. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. It is a harmless substitute for Paregoric, Drops, Soothing Syrup, and Castor Oil. It is Pleasant. Its guarantee is thirty years' use by Millions of Mothers. Castoria destroys Worms and allays Feverishness. Castoria prevents vomiting Sour Cind, cures Diarrhea and Wind Colic. Castoria relieves teething troubles, cures constipation and flatulency. Castoria assimilates the food, regulates the stomach and bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. Castoria is the Children's Friend—the Mother's Friend.

Castoria. "Castoria is an excellent medicine for children. Mothers have tested its good effect upon their children."

Castoria. "Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are doing their lives over by forcing opium, morphine, soothing syrup and other such agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves."

BIG PROFITS ON Small Investments.

Returning prosperity will make many rich, but no where can they make so much within a short time as by successful speculation in Grain, Provision and Stock.

$10.00 FOR EACH DOLLAR Invested can be made by our Systematic Plan of Speculation originated by us. All successful speculators operate on a regular system. It is a well known fact that there are thousands of men in all parts of the United States who, by systematic trading through Chicago brokers, make large amounts every year, ranging from new thousands of dollars for a man who invests a hundred or two hundred dollars up to $50,000, $100,000 or more by those who invest a few thousand.

It is also a fact that those who make the largest profits from comparatively small investments on this plan are persons who live away from Chicago and invest through brokers who thoroughly understand systematic trading.

Our plan does not risk the whole amount invested on any trade, but covers both sides, so that whether the market rises or falls it brings a steady profit that piles up enormous in a short time.

WHITE FOR CONVINCING PROOFS, also our Manual on successful speculation and our Daily Market Report, full of money making pointers ALL FREE. Our Manual explains margin trading fully. Highest references in regard to our standing and success.
